About the Program

Masterclass on Short-term Momentum Trading is designed to equip you with the necessary skills to understand the complexities of the market. We'll guide you to unravel the hidden patterns and trends that lead to profitable trades through a top-down analysis approach.

In this program, the approach to learning is broken down into three key elements - Momentum, Trend, and Volatility. And amongst these elements, the concept of Heikin Ashi Candle plays a crucial role in helping you to trigger your trade. This course aims to bring utmost clarity to your trading decisions.

Considering the fact that we will be giving a lot of importance to the market's momentum, these strategies will help someone who is looking to execute short-term trades (both intraday and positional).

Aditya Shukla

I have been associated with Abhijit Sir for last 10 years now when he started AST course. I really appreciate your work sir. There is no one like you who teaches in detail technical analysis. His planning and execution of trades are superb and after execution his support is excellent. I highly recommend him as a mentor who really wants to learn.

Mohit Choudhary

I have been associated with Abhijit Sir's mentorship program since last year. It's always been a great experience learning from a selfless mentor like him. What I greatly appreciate about Abhijit Sir is, he never encourages spoon feeding and an aspirant is forced to learn and do some background work & self study. I admire him for his patience, well spoken content and informative sessions. Thank you so much Sir.
